Last Thing He Saw Was A Cherry Bomb...

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — David Shue isn't sure, but he thinks the last thing he saw was "a red cherry bomb on the ground and a wooden fence."

Then there was a blast. "I see total black now. It's called stone blindness. Nothing at all," Shue explains. "A doctor said it's like taking pictures without any film."

Shue was blinded four years ago by a firecracker at a family Fourth of July celebration in his hometown of St. Joseph, Mich.

"There were about 15 people around the yard, lighting fireworks, being very cautious. I was 16, one of the older ones, so I was supervising and showing the kids how to set them off," Shue recalled.

Only Saw Glow

Shue recalls he set a cherry bomb in the grass toward the end of the evening. "I was kneeling and it was on the ground to my right, about an arm's length away."

"I touched it with a sparkler. 'Strange thing about it, I didn't really realize what happened. I didn't have any time to turn my head away or get my hand out of there. I stood up and there was all this liquid pouring down my face and my shirt."

He was driven to a hospital. "I'd take a washcloth to my eyes, trying to see but I wouldn't see a thing except a bright reddish orange glow."

"I figured they would take me to the hospital, wash my eyes and send me home."

Shue was in surgery five hours and in the hospital 22 days, under heavy sedation, with a 24-hour attendant.

Tore At Bandages

"A couple times I grabbed at the bandages and tore them a little bit off but an orderly or somebody restrained me." His weight dropped from 195 to 135.

Doctors didn't tell him he would be totally blind until September.

He spent 16 weeks at Boston's Catholic Guild for the Blind learning "how to walk with a white cane, typing, braille, cooking, ironing clothes, how to make clay figures and fencing (it increases your sense of touch with a cane)."

He dropped out of Western Michigan University last year "because slivers of cardboard started coming out of one eye so I needed surgery. Some debris still surfaces occasionally and I have the eye lanced for that."

"Freakish" Thing

He plans to re-enter Western next fall to study for his goal of becoming a psychiatric social worker. He got married June 6 and sings with a rock band to support himself and his bride.

"No matter how careful you are," he says of July 4 four years ago, "you can get hurt. I was being very careful. It was just one of those freakish things."

School Aid Bill Has $22 Million Special Section

LANSING (AP) — Michigan joined today the ranks of five other states which have voted to give public tax money to support parochial and other private schools.

Both houses of the Legislature, on close votes taken only hours apart Thursday, approved a $969.3 million school aid grant for the coming year — including a $22 million special section. Funds in the section are earmarked for salary subsidies to lay teachers of nonreligious subjects in all of the state's private schools.

The bill, subject of legislative give-and-take that began last October with a special session dedicated to educational reform, passed the Senate on a 23-15 vote. The House cleared it by a 37-49 rollcall, one more than the 56-vote majority required to pass a bill.

Milliken Elated

Passage marked a special victory for advocates of state aid to private schools, who have been struggling for more than three years to write it into the state fund. The action also cleared a major stumbling block to adjournment of the Legislature's spring session, all seats in both Houses are involved in this fall's elections and legislators want to start campaigning as soon as possible. The state's primary election is Aug. 4.

Gov. William Milliken, whose support for parochialism contributed substantially to rounding up votes for it but provoked deep frictions within his own Republican party, expressed happiness at the victory.

"I am elated at the action," he said. "The figure is within range of my budget recommendation. It means that our schools will be adequately financed."

Opposition Strong

Parochialism opposition is particularly strong in the ranks of Michigan's teachers' unions and administration lobbies. One organization continued to urge that no school aid bill be passed for the school year starting this fall if it meant giving funds to private schools.

Michigan's $22 million parochial aid grant for next year places it in the middle of other states supporting the concept. New York has appropriated $28 million and Pennsylvania $30 million. Ohio grants $50 a year to each parochial school student.

Rhode Island and Connecticut have plans to subsidize teacher salaries but implementation has been delayed by court challenges.

In an advisory opinion to its Legislature, the Maine Supreme court held the concept unconstitutional in that state.

Grant Upheld

Pennsylvania was the first state to enact parochial aid legislation, starting with a $4.8 million grant in 1968. Challenged in the courts, the grant was upheld last November by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. Opponents said they would take the issue to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Since the first grant, Pennsylvania's state aid rose to $23 million last year and to $30 million this year.

The federal government meanwhile, is developing plans for a system of "vouchers" to reimburse salaries.

It was passage of the 1965 Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act that broke down much of the traditional barrier between parochial schools and public treasuries. The 1965 act provided various federal funds to public and private schools alike.

Two Per Cent Limit

Under the new Michigan plan, the level of state parochial aid is to be limited to two per cent of the total aid fund. As the cost of primary and secondary education increases, the level of subsidization can be expected to go up.

For next year and 1971-72—first state payments are made in August—the $22 million fund would pay half the salaries of qualifying lay teachers.

Future subsidies would be allowed to rise to 75 per cent of actual salary.

"If history means anything, they're going to find out in 71-72 that somebody held out some false hopes," charged Rep. Clifford Smart, senior Republican.

Unemployment Rate Declines, More Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped in June for the first time this year although an additional 1.3 million Americans sought unsuccessfully to find jobs.

The seeming contradiction was attributed by the Labor Department Thursday to the fact that the number of adult women and teen-agers seeking work fell far below expectations.

The department also reported, without elaboration, the jobless rate for Negroes rose from 8 to 8.7 per cent last month, returning to the April level after a dip in May.

4.7 Per Cent Listed

The nonwhite unemployment rate was 7 per cent a year ago and 7.1 per cent in March 1970. The 15-year low in nonwhite unemployment was 5.7 per cent in February 1969.

The over-all unemployment rate for June was 4.7 per cent, compared with 5 per cent in May and 3.4 per cent a year ago. Nixon administration officials have predicted the rate will hit 5½ per cent before dropping again toward the 4 per cent mark.

The number of unemployed Americans totaled 4.7 million last month, a rise of 1.3 million over May. The civilian labor force increased 2.3 million to 84.1 million.

Force Smaller

The government said the increase in the labor force—those Americans working or actively seeking jobs—was much smaller than had been expected. The Labor Department had predicted 2.5 million teen-agers would seek work in early June but the actual number was only 2 million.

The employment figures are compiled from a complicated seasonal-adjustment formula which takes into account what could be expected in the labor market at any time of the year.

The Labor Department said for the first time in eight months the jobless rate of adult males did not rise. The rate for teen-agers remained unchanged.

Educators Begin Drafting Program

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Seven thousand delegates to the National Education Association's 108th annual convention begin hammering out their 1970-71 program today on such touchy issues as integration, church-state relations and federal aid to education.

The delegates will be in session through Monday. They have completed three days of meetings of affiliated organizations.

Truckers Win Raises, Chicago Strike Ends

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators announced early today an agreement to end a 12-week Chicago area trucking strike and lockout and to increase by nearly 70 per cent pay raises provided in a national trucking contract ratified in May.

The May contract between the International Teamsters Union and the general trucking industry gave pay raises of $1.10 an hour over 39 months to 325,000 truck drivers who had been earning an average of $4 an hour. Under the new agreement, their raise over 39 months will be $1.85 an hour.

The 37,000 Chicago area truckers involved in the strike and lockout won pay raises of $1.65 an hour over 36 months, the period covered by the separate contract negotiated for them. They had been earning $4.15 an hour under a contract that expired March 31.

Vote Is Next

Both the Chicago contract and the new wage section of the national agreement must be submitted to the union rank and file.

In announcing the agreement, however, Frank E. Fitzsimmons, acting president of the International Teamsters, said it met union demands. It also appeared likely that trucks in Chicago would resume operations

Draft Lottery Ceiling To 195

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's draft lottery ceiling has risen to No. 195 through August and Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr says officials "don't anticipate that it will go much higher" for the rest of the year.

Tarr ordered local draft boards Thursday to add only five lottery numbers for August inductions.

The Selective Service director's announcement means that men holding numbers in the upper end of the "middle third"—somewhere around 210 to 240—might escape the service.

He said an influx of low-numbered men, primarily college students who have lost their deferments, is replenishing the draft pool and "really helping our manpower situation."

The White House estimated at the time of the first lottery last December that the lowest third—men with numbers from one to about 120—would almost certainly be inducted.

It said men with numbers above 240 probably would not. Those with numbers in the middle range were left to wonder about their chances.

Protester Protests 'Honor America' Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — To one veteran antiwar organizer the July Fourth "Honor America" extravaganza in the nation's capital "is the kind of thing that took place in Hitler's Germany."

"It's all there—folklore, sectarian politics, just like Nazi Germany. It's scary," Stewart Meacham says. "It really is."

Meacham's advice to the left: "Stay away from it. Any attempt to get into it makes it more interesting and builds it." Generally, the organized left seems to be following Meacham's counsel and is ignoring the event.

But no one can safely predict the reaction of the disorganized left—that collection of ragtag revolutionaries, Yuppies, politicized hippies and street people who band together under names like the White Panthers, the Up-Against-the-Wall, the STP.

"There's a lot of people coming," said a tall young man with long brown curls and a sleeping bag strapped to his back. "And before the voting was finished.

"We're ready to roll as soon as the equipment can be put in shape," said Ray Schoessling, head of Teamsters Joint Council 25 at Chicago.

Chicago drivers had rejected overwhelmingly last week an industry offer of $1.65 an hour over 45 months.

The national contract had specified that it would be renegotiated if any company granted larger increases to a union local not covered by it.

Leaders Gather

The way for the dual agreement on the local contract and a revised national pact was opened when top industry and union representatives gathered for what became 14 hours of almost continuous meetings.

J. Curtis Counts, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, shuttled back and forth between the joint and separate sessions.

Chicago area Teamster Locals 705 and 710 and the Independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union struck scattered segments of the carriers industry in early April, triggering an industrywide lockout by trucking companies in the metropolitan area.

SAIGON (AP) — A passenger river boat struck a floating mine just south of the Demilitarized Zone today and blew up, killing 46 of the 50 Vietnamese civilians aboard, a government spokesman announced.

The mining occurred on a branch of the Cua Viet River less than a mile from Dong Ha, the boat's destination about nine miles south of the DMZ.

The river is regularly patrolled by U.S. and South Vietnamese boats, and North Vietnamese mines in it have sunk or damaged a number of boats. But the toll today was believed to be the largest.

Only light, scattered fighting was reported in South Vietnam, but the U.S. Command reported the loss of another plane a week ago. It was a Navy A7 Crusader jet that crashed as it was taking off from a carrier June 26 on a mission to Laos. The pilot was rescued.

Marines Withdrawn

South Vietnamese officials also announced the withdrawal of a brigade of marines—between 1,000 and 2,000 men—from Cambodia, reducing the total number of South Vietnamese troops in the neighboring country to about 25,000.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, the Cambodian military command said newly reinforced Communist divisions are preparing for a major new offensive and already are moving assault troops into position in one key area.

A spokesman said Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops are "ready for anything." He added that the enemy threat to Phnom Penh has "receded considerably."

Another Threat

The spokesman said another major threat is developing around Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, with fresh enemy troops moving into position outside the city.

The highway between Kompong Thom and Phnom Penh was still closed despite efforts of several Cambodian battalions to clear it.

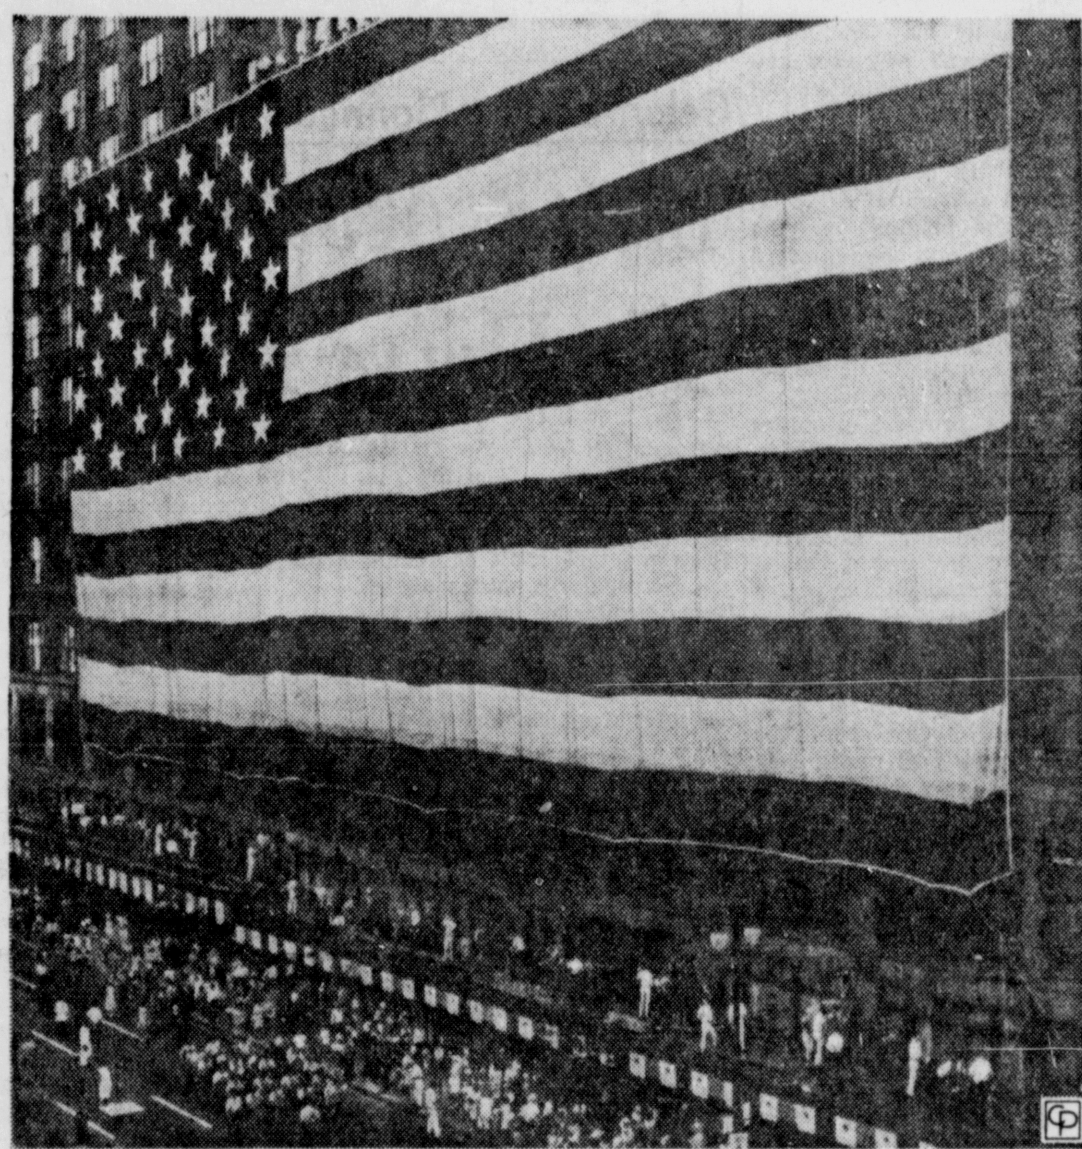

A month-long siege of Kompong Thom was broken in late June after U.S. fighter-bombers made heavy air strikes on enemy positions around the town.

This was the first reported direct U.S. military intervention on the side of Premier Lon Nol's troops.

The spokesman also reported more harassing attacks in the Siem Reap - Angkor area in northwest Cambodia and other harassing attacks on government troops near the provincial capitals of Takeo, south of Phnom Penh, and Prey Vieng, east of the capital.

Sweeps by South Vietnamese troops north of Phnom Penh and by the Cambodian army south and southwest of the capital have reduced the threat to Phnom Penh for the moment, the spokesman said.

But the sweeping forces were unable to bring the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese to battle, and the spokesman said as the Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops leave an area, the enemy forces return and continue their preparations for new attacks.

City Firemen's Pay Now In Arbitration

The amount of salary to be paid Escanaba firemen by the city and its taxpayers will be determined by a system called "compulsory arbitration."

Two other city employee groups have come to agreement on wage contracts with the city, a third union group is in final negotiations, but the firemen are seeking an agreement with the city via the route termed Public Act 312.

The law, enacted by the Michigan legislature, became effective Oct. 1, 1969.

To Meet July 8
Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley, noting that "employees in public police and fire departments are prohibited from striking by law," explains that:

"The enactment of this bill was in recognition of the fact that it is a requisite to the high morale of such employees and the efficient operation of such departments that they be afforded an alternate, effective, and binding procedure for the resolution of disputes."

Escanaba and the firemen are now at the point in this "binding procedure" when a representative of each group, plus an "impartial" third person, will meet at the Civic Center in Escanaba on July 8 for hearing of the dispute.

The City of Escanaba is represented by Howard Smale, controller. Present at the hearing also will be City Attorney Ralph Peterson.

Impartial Chairman
The firemen will be represented by Atty. Nino Green. The firemen had originally

Sailboat Racing Events July 4, 5

Sailboat racing is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 4 and 5th by the Escanaba Yacht Club.

In an annual event the small boat handicap race and cruising division races will be held in Little Bay de Noc. Walter Zimmermann, Regatta Chairman, said the small boat race will take about 2 hours and the cruising race 3 hours.

The schedule for both days includes a skippers meeting at 1 p.m. with starting time at 1:30. Zimmermann said the course will be announced at the skipper's meeting. Yacht Club members are asked to bring a picnic lunch or use the club facilities. On Saturday at 6:30 p.m. a "Scramble" will be held in the El Toro class boats with everyone invited. Sunday at 6 p.m. a potluck dinner will be held.

chosen one of their own men, Arnold Johnson, but later made the change to Green.

Third member of the arbitration panel—and its chairman by law—is Atty. James McCormick of Traverse City.

McCormick is a former hearing examiner for the State Labor Mediation Board.

He was named to the panel after Smale and Johnson were unable to "choose an impartial third person to act as arbitrator and the chairman of the panel," as Atty. General Kelley describes the process.

McCormick as chairman called the meeting to be held July 8.

Final And Binding
"The proceedings are informal and technical rules of evidence do not apply," says the Attorney General.

The costs of the hearing are shared equally by the parties and state. The delegates, if public officers or employees, continue on their payrolls at their usual pay.

Further, says the Attorney General:

"The panel may administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and require the production of books and papers."

"The majority decision, if supported by competent, material and substantial evidence, is final and binding on the parties and may be enforced by either party, or the panel, in the circuit court for the county where the dispute arose, or where a majority of the affected employees live."

"The act provides penalties for violation of lawful enforcement orders and also provides for circuit court review under certain conditions," said Kelley.

Each Sunday from late April or early May through September Seattle, Wash., bans cars from six scenic miles of Lake Washington boulevard. The winding route past parks, lake shores and private homes is turned over to bicycles, a project undertaken several years ago in cooperation with the League of American Wheelmen.

Celebrations Planned In Area

State Motorists Expected To Drive Record Mileage

People all over the United States will be celebrating the Fourth of July Holiday today with all sorts of fun and festivities and the people of Michigan, particularly those in the Upper Peninsula, are no different.

Officials of the Michigan State Highway Commission estimate that Michigan motorists will drive a record 630 million vehicle miles over the Fourth of July weekend. According to reports received Thursday, motorists traveling in the Upper Peninsula should experience good driving conditions.

Rodger Murray, engineer with the State Highway Department in Escanaba, said that all construction has been shut down and that he knows of no detours in the Upper Peninsula. He said that U.P. traffic conditions should be normal.

Robert Karas of the Delta County Road Commission reported that all of the county trucks had been pulled off the roads at noon Thursday and that all of the county roads were in good driving condition. Karas also added that all roads under construction are passable.

Use Caution

The Michigan State Police Post at Gladstone reported that all officers will be working over the holiday weekend and urged all motorists to use extreme caution over the four-day period.

Robert Dunstone, the marine deputy for the Delta County Sheriff's Department, will also be on duty over the weekend and Sheriff Harold Finman urged all boaters to make sure that they have enough gas with them before going out on the water and to check on the weather conditions.

The anticipated total of 630 million vehicle miles exceeds the 1969 Fourth of July figure by nearly five million vehicle miles. The heaviest traffic volumes were expected from 2 to 10 p.m. yesterday and today and from noon until 9 p.m. Sunday.

Travelers with an eye for the unusual should make it a point to stop at Calumet for the International Frisbee tournament on Saturday and Sunday. The tourney features distance and accuracy throws on the first

Fourth Of July Activities

The Recreation Department would like to remind people that the following schedule will be used at Ludington Park on the Fourth of July:

- 1:15 — Registration of babies 2 to 5 years of age for the Baby Contest. (Band Shell)
- 1:15 — Games and races for boys and girls 5 to 12 years of age. (Between tennis court and band shell)
- 2:15 — 20th Annual Baby Contest (Band Shell)
- 7:30 — Band concert by the Escanaba City Band under the direction of Paul Cowen. (Band Shell)
- 8:15 — Fireworks display, supervised by Francis Lueneburg and assisted by Tom Morin. (Lud. Park)

Briefly Told

State Police reported today that an outboard motor, belonging to Richard Hodgins of Wells, had been taken from a boat in Hodgins' yard sometime during the night of July 1. Officers said the incident is still under investigation.

The Senior Citizens have canceled their activities scheduled for Sunday because of the holiday weekend.

American Legion and Auxiliary, Cloverland Post 82, will hold a potluck supper Tuesday, July 7 at 6:30 p. m. at the clubrooms. The Auxiliary will hold election of officers. All members are to attend.

School Board Meets Monday

The Board of Education of the Escanaba Area Public Schools will hold a special meeting on Monday at 8 p. m. at the Administration Building.

This is the annual organizational meeting of the board as required by law. Items of business at the meeting will be the seating of new members, the election of officers for the coming year, the determination of dates and places or regular meetings during the year, the determination of depositaries for school funds and appointments of committees.

City Wage Pact With Electrical Union Delayed

The Escanaba city administration and Council, prepared to ratify a wage contract with the city electricians last night, found it had nothing to ratify when the agenda item came up for action.

City Manager George Harvey told the Council he was sorry to report that no contract had been arrived at because "we can not reach agreement on a vacation schedule." He said the discussion will continue on July 9.

Escanaba electricians and the city key their agreement to that between the U.P. Power Co. and the electricians' union. The Power Co. and the union have settled, but city electricians are reported dissatisfied with the proposed city vacation schedule.

No Contract Now

"I do not foresee a work stoppage," said the city manager in reply to a question from the Council. He based his optimism on the fact that a meeting is scheduled for further talks. Currently, however, there is no contract with the electricians.

The Council in other business accepted federal and state grants of $1,273,600 toward the financing of Escanaba's $6 million sewerage and water improvement program. Additional grants of about $1 million are anticipated, to bring the total to a little more than $3 million, said City Manager Harvey.

Councilman Cecil Chase and Mayor Ron DeVos commended the city administration for its successful efforts to obtain the funds.

The Local Share

Councilman Robert Bink noted that the state-federal funding had been anticipated and that it in no way will reduce the local participation in the project.

The city manager concurred, directing attention to the fact that the water and wastewater customers in Escanaba will have to pay about $3 million. The higher rates to meet the revenue bonding obligation are in effect and will appear on the July bills.

truck for the electrical department was approved. Low bidders were Escanaba Machine Co., $6,033 for the truck chassis; and United Truck Body, $18,604 for the lift.

Mayor DeVos inquired about the cost of the last purchase by the city of a similar piece of equipment a few years ago. He was told that it was about $4,000 lower.

Stickers For Trucks

The Mayor said that these rising costs are one of the things the Council must face in budgeting funds and commented on a story in the Escanaba Daily Press (July 1, page 2) concerning a reduction in Library ser-

Council Okays Swan Johnson Memorial Area

An 80-acre tract deeded to the city by the late Swan Johnson, Escanaba businessman, will become the Swan Johnson Memorial Recreation Area.

The City Council approved the recognition and adopted a resolution noting Mr. Johnson's "lengthy and impressive record of community and church service."

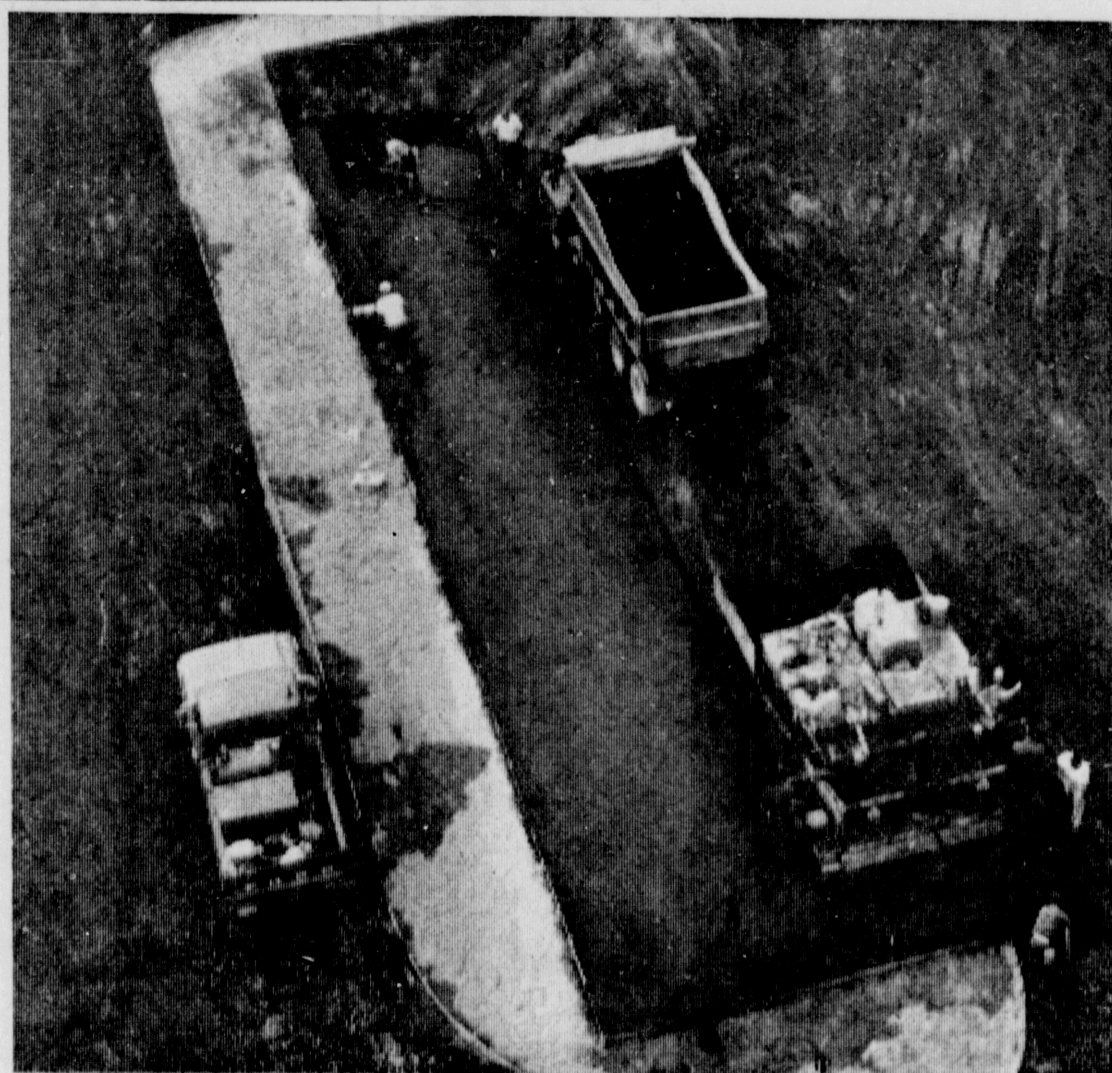

"The Council and the City of Escanaba and the people of the area as an expression of thanks on behalf of Mr. Johnson's generous and outstanding gift of property made by him does express its gratitude by dedicating the area" as a memorial in his name, the Council resolution concluded.

The area is in part the Danforth ski hill and is growing in popularity for winter sports use.

vice because of budget cuts.

Council gave preliminary approval to vacating N. 25th St. in the shopping center development area; approved taking options on three properties on 1st Ave. N. west of the Farmers' Market to expand off-street parking, the funds to come from parking meter revenues; and accepted a petition for the paving of 16th Ave. N. from Stephenson Ave. to N. 18th St.

The date of July 16 was set for second reading and adoption of an ordinance which would provide for a fee of $30 a sticker permitting vehicles of persons employed in building repairs, plumbing, electric work and so forth, to park for an extended time.

BLACKTOPPING OF THE PARKING LOT and driveway of the Senior Citizens apartment building began early this morning as workmen continued toward the July 13 dedication day. While the blacktop was being applied, electricians were hooking up lights in the adjoining park area. Picture was taken from the 11th floor of the 18-story tower. (Daily Press Photo)

Device Reported 99% Effective On Air Pollutants

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — An inventor and a research firm have developed an air pollution control device they say is highly effective for industrial and automotive use.

Dick Moen, chief engineer of Cleman Enterprises Inc., the company working on the device, said test units have been built but no production models are available yet. It was invented by David E. Gilligan of Centuria.

He said the firm is negotiating with a company based in Washington State for commercial production but declined to name the firm.

Pulp Mill Use
Moen said the test device, which Gilligan called a "smog eradicator," reduced car exhaust pollutants to as little as three-fourths of one per cent. He said the system was 99 per cent effective in tests for industrial uses such as at pulp mills.

Lee Johnson, vice president of Food, Chemical and Research Laboratories Inc., of Seattle, which conducted the tests, confirmed the results.

The smog eradicator, Moen said in an interview, takes out both gaseous and solid matter from the fumes given off by mills and other industrial operations.

He said the pollutants are removed by petroleum-based liquids activated by a catalyst which filters exhausts before they reach the air.

No Models Available
Industrial research spokesmen said the system's economic feasibility has yet to be determined since there are no commercial production models available. The problem includes adapting its size to varied uses.

Moen said his firm has a design for a muffler-like device for use on cars but hasn't finished the first model. The test equipment is a system of tanks, pipes and other parts housed in a van vehicle. The system is about six feet long, three high and two wide.

Moen said engineering data indicated an industrial unit would cost about two-thirds as much as those currently in use, a matter of thousands of dollars. He said about 50 per cent of existing control systems could be converted into use with the Gilligan device were it to be installed.

The Gilligan system, Moen said, will produce reusable products in the pollution-cleaning operation, as current systems do, but would improve somewhat on present results. He cited as an example recovery of sulphuric acid in a pulp mill operation.

He also said the Gilligan device would be transferable from use at one plant to installation at another, a factor he said existing systems lack since they are designed for and limited to a specific function and location.

Clerk, 19, Gets 40 To 60 Years For Rape, Murder

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A 19-year-old supermarket clerk who pleaded guilty to kidnap, rape and murder charges was sentenced to 40 to 60 years in prison.

Michael Kedrovitz, of Big Rapids, received the 40- to 60-year sentence for the Jan. 29 murder of Norma Jean Bagby of Allen Park. He also received 40 to 45 years on the rape charge and 15 to 20 years for kidnapping. The sentences are to run concurrently.

The kidnap and rape charges grew out of an incident in Big Rapids Jan. 19.

Accidents Kill 16 In Michigan

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents claimed 16 lives during the early hours of the three-day Independence Day weekend.

Although the weekend began for many Thursday evening, many others remained on the job today before taking off on holiday weekend outings.

Tabulation of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. local time Thursday and will end at midnight Sunday.

Bankard Joins Bank Americard

Michigan Bankard has officially joined the nationwide and worldwide BankAmericard system effective July 1.

Michigan Bankard currently has about 870,000 cardholders, 18,000 member merchants, and 80 participating Michigan banks having 300 offices throughout the State. It joins BankAmericard which has approximately 31 million cardholders, 670,000 merchants and 3,600 banks around the world. BankAmericard is honored in all 50 states and 52 foreign areas.

The new card, called the "Michigan BankAmericard," will retain the Michigan Bankard red, white and blue identification in the upper left corner, while the rest of the new card will have the blue, white and gold format of the standard BankAmericard.

Michigan Bankard member merchants and banks began conversions to Michigan BankAmericard on July 1, and are expected to complete the conversion by Sept. 1. Michigan Bankard holders in good standing will automatically receive their new Michigan BankAmericard shortly after July 1.

The authorized Bank for Michigan BankAmericard in the Escanaba area is the Northern Michigan National Bank.

Antlerless Deer Moratorium Given Lansing Support

LANSING—Five Upper Peninsula state representatives have announced support for the Senate-approved resolution which calls for a moratorium on the hunting of antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula in 1970. The resolution is presently under consideration in the House of Representatives.

It has been assured the support of Reps. D. J. Jacobetti (D-Negaunee), Russell R. Hellman (D-Dollar Bay), John D. Payant (R-Kingsford), Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) and Robert W. Davis (R-St. Ignace).

The resolution asks the Department of Natural Resources to declare the moratorium on does and fawns for the 1970 hunting season. It also directs the department to use all of its resources to assess the effects of the one-year moratorium on antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula and report its findings to the Natural Resources Commission and the Legislature in July of 1971.

State Budget Bills Occupy Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Pressing toward summer adjournment sometime before midnight tonight, the Michigan Legislature today resumed action on the remaining half of this year's $7.3 billion state spending budget.

Passage in both houses Thursday of the controversial $969.3 million public and parochial schools fund prompted leaders to talk optimistically of adjourning without returning to the Capitol until after the Aug. 4 primary election.

It was generally accepted that a rump session in August or early September would be required to complete action on an assortment of lesser bills.

Major Items Remain

Major budget items still to be settled today included the $330.3 million appropriation for the state's 15 major colleges and universities and 30 community colleges, as well as some seven other bills.

They include operating funds for the Legislature, the governor and courts of the state, the Education Department and a host of lesser agencies.

The Senate voted Thursday to adopt the compromise higher education bill, but an emotionally torn House postponed action on it.

In a prolonged session that ran from morning to well into the night, several important budget bills won passage after shuttling between chambers. Sent to Gov. William G. Milliken for signing were:

—A $334.8 million Social Services Department appropriation that will raise the cost of state welfare projects by $46.7 million this year.

Welfare checks for an estimated 72,000 to 86,000 families and elderly persons are expected to be increased by $7.50 monthly under the bill.

—$198.2 million for the State Mental Health Department. The fund would be $30.6 million more than has been spent in the fiscal year just ended.

—$32 million for the State Corrections Department for operation of the state's two major prisons at Jackson and Marquette and various reformatories, camps and training schools. The governor, meanwhile, signed five bills into law. One appropriates $37.7 million for state building projects during the year.

The measure includes nearly $7.2 million for completion of 19 building projects and $13.8 million to continue projects already under way. These include a basic instruction facility at Wayne

State University and a life sciences building at Michigan State University.

The appropriation also will permit the start of construction of two 650-bed mental retardation centers, one in Macomb County and another in Wayne County, and a 200-bed addition to the mental retardation center at Muskegon.

Planning Funds

Another bill provides $4.56 million for planning and construction of 15 projects at 13 community colleges.

These funds, combined with local, federal and previous state appropriations, will nearly complete about $34 million in classroom facility construction benefiting nearly half of the state's community college students, Milliken said.

The governor also signed a bill to permit local units of government to issue revenue bonds for stadium facilities.

"This step by the State of Michigan will assure the proper financing ability for such cities as Detroit, which may soon construct a new stadium," the governor said. "This bill simply provides a financing procedure and does not commit state funds."

Other bills signed by the governor will:

—Appropriate $318,000 from the State General Fund for preliminary studies and planning of 12 projects, such as a second life sciences building at MSU and the medical center project at the University of Michigan.

—Clarify terms of office for some former municipal court judges who became district judges under the District Court Act.

Nurses Return After 'Illness'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Registered nurses are back on duty today at Sunshine Hospital after a two-day bout with the "white flu" during a dispute over wages.

Calls saying many of the hospital's 51 registered nurses were sick with the "flu" began Tuesday after negotiations on a wage contract reached an impasse.

All of the nurses returned to duty Thursday after both the nurses union and Kent County, which operates the hospital, agreed to resume contract talks. However, no date was set for negotiations to resume.

4th Of July

Along about this time of year, someone always comes up with the gag question "Do they have a 4th of July in Russia?"

And invariably, someone thinking about America's Independence Day holiday will answer "No."

Whereupon, the gagster will chuckle and point out that the Russians, Canadians, Australians, Mexicans and anyone who operates under the Gregorian calendar has a 4th of July. It's just that they all don't celebrate it.

This year, however, that gag takes on a little more significance.

This year's 4th of July may be the last in the United States for a number of years. Next year, for example, the 4th of July as known — the parades, picnics, band concerts, fireworks — will be on the 5th of July. And in future years, the specific date also will change.

Action by Congress which was supported by the Michigan Legislature will make it possible. The feeling was that the specific date wasn't as important as the idea of a celebration and as long as the nation was going to celebrate, why not do it on a weekend when everyone could enjoy it a little more. No more 4th of July holidays on a Wednesday, for example. With only one day off from work, what can a person do? So the 4th of July will come up in the future on Mondays.

The July holiday, whatever the day, marks Independence Day in the United States and Escanabans will celebrate traditionally — with golf, games and activities for youngsters at Ludington Park, picnics, a concert by the Escanaba Municipal Band and finally a fireworks display.

It's a program that doesn't change too much from year to year. Francis Lueneburg, beach director who doubles as range officer for the skyrocket launching on the 4th, has been at it so long that rarely is there a problem if the weatherman cooperates. And the Escanaba Municipal band, directed by Paul Cowen, is always at its best for its largest audience of the summer.

In fact, the most unique happening on a 4th of July in the park in recent years came when a passing ore boat fired a salute with its flare guns during the fireworks display.

But maybe that's why people look forward to the evening.

Although adults and children, alike, have seen fireworks displays and have listened to band concerts and don't have to go to Ludington Park to battle mosquitoes, residents will tackle the traffic and flock to the park Saturday night for the festivities. Some will have been there all day.

It's sort of a rite of summer in Escanaba and a welcome one at that.

And next year — even though the celebration is on the 5th instead of the 4th — the events of the day will keep the faith.

The Family Lawyer

Selling To Minors

By scrimping and saving, 14-year-old Freddie accumulated a nest egg of almost $400. One day he spent the whole thing on a shiny new motorbike that he had been eyeing in a store window.

A few days later, after a sobering talk with his parents, Freddie took the motorbike back to the store and asked for a refund. The merchant refused, but finally had to give in when the matter was taken to court. The judge reminded him that a minor has a legal right to back out of his contracts.

"Always," said the judge, "the courts have attempted to protect persons of tender years from the wiles of those who would take advantage of them and from the effects of their own folly."

This safeguard for the youthful purchaser, this "right to disaffirm," has been a part of Anglo-American law for centuries. It extends to anyone not yet of age, which usually means anyone under 21. In most states, it applies even if the merchandise has been damaged or destroyed — that is, even if Freddie had negligently smashed up the motorbike in an accident. His negligence, too, would be considered a part of his immaturity.

However, the right to disaffirm does not apply to the purchase of necessities, such as food, clothing, and medical supplies. A teenager might be able to cancel a purchase of costly, custom-made boots, but not a purchase of everyday shoes.

Furthermore, there are now growing doubts about the whole notion of a right to disaffirm. Today's youth, observed one court, are often more sophisticated than their parents — hence less in need of special protection. Certainly it isn't as easy to think of them as babes in the commercial woods when they are wielding a buying power of perhaps 25 billion dollars per year.

Accordingly, in varying degree, state legislatures have been getting stricter with young people. One way has been to hold them fully responsible for certain types of contracts, such as educational loans. Another way has been to lower the age of maturity to 18. Still another way has been to deny the cancellation privilege to any youth who has deceived the merchant about his age.

"The privilege may be used as a shield to protect the (minor)," said one court, "not as a sword to inflict injuries upon another."

Berlin Wall Necessary To Retain Red Culture

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WEST BERLIN — "Ohne mich," say the young in Germany when war with the East is mentioned — "without me."

So it is entirely understandable that, when West German Chancellor Willy Brandt met with East German Prime Minister Willi Stoph at Kassel to discuss the possibility of East-West easements, there was a vast clutching at straws merely because no one broke any furniture. There is no denying the hunger and the vast silent pressure for peace that lies behind the Brandt venture in Ostpolitik.

One listens sympathetically to the West German yearnings — and then one gets a first sight of the Berlin Wall. It isn't a high wall, but the refinement of psychological torture that tops it — a system of rolling pipes or tubes that would turn in the hand if you tried to get a grip to vault over into freedom — seems the final obscenity. I had never seen this particular aspect of the wall described.

If the East Berliners weren't locked in by a final ingenuity of construction, Communism would crumble. This is why Willy Brandt's Ostpolitik impresses one as next door to being futile. Communism has to remain rigid in order to be Communism. The Czechs found that out.

Our party of visiting journalists went into East Berlin by the elevated railroad, getting off at the Friedrichstrasse station to pass the hard-eyed guards and customs men who seemed to take considerable amusement from the fact that the name on my passport was Chamberlain. One of them pointed it out to another and they both laughed, probably repressing a temptation to ask why, unlike Neville Chamberlain, I had no umbrella to declare. We were forbidden to take notes or to carry paper, which is a hardship to any reporter who values precision.

The general impression of what the Communists are doing to rebuild the Unter Den Linden area, the Alexanderplatz and the long street now known as the Karl Marx Allee is, however, unforgettable.

You come in from West Berlin.

Craig To Oppose Hubert Humphrey In Senate Race

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Earl D. Craig, Jr., a Negro active in the New Democratic Coalition, announced today he will challenge Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate in Minnesota's Sept. 15 primary election.

Craig conditioned his effort on his ability to raise at least $20,000 in campaign funds in the next two weeks.

Craig, 31, a former lecturer at the University of Minnesota, collected a surprising 21 per cent of the delegate vote at the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party endorsing convention in Duluth last week. Humphrey was endorsed by the convention to seek the Senate seat being vacated at year's end by Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

Craig was active in McCarthy's 1968 bid for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, which spawned the New Democratic Coalition.

lin, where people swarm and the streets abound with life until past midnight. The scale of West Berlin is human.

Around the Alexanderplatz in East Berlin the aim is apparently to dwarf the people. The new buildings—and there are a lot of them—are in the Stalin-gigantesque mode.

But it is the open spaces that intimidate: there could be no building of cobblestone anti-Marxist barricades here, and nothing could stop the tanks from turning corners. Mussolini, I believe, was the first modern dictator to understand the intimidating uses of distance; he forced his visitors to walk down a tremendously long aisle to his desk.

The Communists seem to have made this a first principle of architecture and city planning in the rebuilding of the center of East Berlin. The great facades and the empty spaces are, in a way, a Potemkin village, for, looking down the cross streets, one sees dinginess and meanness. But you aren't supposed to go down those side streets; you are supposed to be awed while Big Brother watches you at the center.

We had heard, in the West German Republic, that West Berlin had become cynical about freedom. The actions of the young at the Free University, anarchistic as in our own American universities, were mentioned as a portent of the future. But the older West Berliners deny the significance of the local campus eruptions.

The cynicism in West Berlin, you are told, is trench humor, an attempt to make tribulations funny so you can stand them. At the cellar restaurant of Zur Kenipe, one of the first political cabarets, the owner broke off his party for us at one in the morning because, as he explained it, he had to get up early to take his entertainers to a local prison. Whatever the motives for bringing wit and music to prisoners, they do not seem to be covered by the word "cynicism."

Chancellor Brandt may eventually see his dream of a united Berlin come true, if in some distant day, a few million Red Chinese pour into Siberia, causing frantic efforts in Moscow to make deals with the West in order to insure that it will be only a one-front war. But, assuredly, there will be no tumbling of the Berlin Wall short of Moscow's own extremity. The obvious fact is that East Berlin can't stand an open comparison with West Berlin.

The two cultures must be kept rigidly apart, for if they weren't segregated the Communist culture would crumble in a fortnight.

First Zip Code, Next Short Addresses?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, which brought you zip codes, is thinking about abbreviated addresses to speed the flow of mails.

Political Group Must Show Cause In Suit At MSU

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A political group at Michigan State University has been ordered to show cause at a July 21 hearing why its request for an injunction forbidding prosecution of those arrested for violating the campus loitering ordinance should be granted.

The suit, filed on behalf of 132 members of the action group to combat racism, contends the ordinance violates the first and 14th amendments to the constitution. It also contends that prosecution of those arrested under the law during a May 19 incident at Michigan State would intimidate them in exercising their rights of free speech and assembly.

The suit names the university's trustees, its president and Ingham County Prosecutor Raymond Scodellare as defendants.

In its complaint, the group contends it was holding workshops in the university's student union when it learned of the closing hours for the building. The suit contends the group asked that the closing hours be lifted and group members believed their request was acted upon.

But the suit claims that when the group was asked to leave the building more than two hours after the 11 p.m. closing hour, they were met outside by police who arrested all 132 and jailed them overnight on charges of trespassing.

Researchers probing "human problem areas in moving the mail" have found operators of letter-sorting machines—LSM's—help determine how fast mail flows.

The faster they read addresses and punch in 3-digit numeric codes that send letters into the proper receptacles, the faster the mail is delivered.

At the present rate of 60 letters a minute, the operator has one second to read an address, recall the proper code and punch it in before the next letter comes up.

"This constitutes a considerable memory task for the operator," National Bureau of Standards scientists said in a report for the Post Office.

To help lighten such mental burdens, the government is experimenting with shorter work cycles, variable sorting speeds and ways to cut address-reading time.

If things turn out well, the researchers said, "methods for encoding or abbreviating addresses can then be based on a good estimate of human ability to use the method quickly and accurately."

Other ideas under investigation include machines to sort the mail with voice commands instead of a keyboard, and using television viewing of the mail to allow the LSM operator to be removed from the noisy, dusty operating floor.

The Mekong river is known to Tibetans as Dza-Chu, or the Water of the Rocks. To the Chinese it is Lan-Tsan Kiang, the Turbulent River. Laotians and Thais, who live on its opposite banks, call it the Mae Nam Khong, the Mother River. Europeans contracted this to Mekong.

BIDDING QUIZ

You have the following hand, both sides vulnerable:

♠AKQ7 ♠93 ♣Q65 ♣AJ42

1. You are the dealer. What do you bid?
2. Your partner deals and bids One Diamond, next player passes. What do you bid?
3. Your left-hand opponent bids One Diamond, your partner passes, and your right-hand opponent bids One Heart. What do you bid?
4. Your partner deals and bids One Heart and the next player doubles. What do you bid?
5. Your partner deals and bids One Heart, you respond One Spade, and partner bids Three Diamonds. What do you bid?
6. Your left-hand opponent bids One Club, your partner passes, and the next player bids One Spade. What do you bid?

1. One club. Despite the 16 points and balanced distribution, which appear to suggest opening with a notrump, it is better to bid a suit. As usual, with clubs and spades of equal length, you start with the lower suit in order to conserve bidding space. The notrump bid is avoided because you have two unguarded suits.

2. One spade. Game is of course certain, but that doesn't mean you must respond two spades to show it. A jump-shift would show a probable slam, and the hand is not quite good enough for that. Change a heart into a spade or a diamond and you would then have a classic two spade response. One spade is 100 per cent forcing.

3. Double. This indicates the values for an opening bid and support for the two unmentioned suits. It would be wrong to bid a spade. That would show greater spade length and much less in high cards.

4. Redouble. This identifies 10 or more points. You intend to either bid game eventually or double the opponents for penalties.

5. Four clubs. A small slam is already certain, since partner's jump-shift announces at least 20 points, distributional or otherwise. The real goal is a grand slam. Four clubs is a waiting bid to force partner to reveal the nature of his jump-shift. He may have or ♠5 ♠AK8762 ♣AKJ53 ♣8 or similar holdings. You'll have to wait and see what he does over four clubs.

6. Pass. The value of a hand changes as the bidding progresses. Before the bidding started, you had a reasonable hope of finding partner with length in either spades or clubs, but that hope is now largely dissipated. The best strategy is to assume a defensive posture and hope the opponents get up too high.

'70 Gremlin Is Sold Out

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. reported Thursday it has sold all the planned 1970 models of the Gremlin, the first minicar introduced by U.S. automakers to meet the competition of foreign imports.

An AMC spokesman said that dealers were no longer taking orders for 1970-model Gremlins. However, he said orders were being accepted for 1971 Gremlin that will begin rolling off the assembly line in mid-August.

AMC introduced the shoe-shaped Gremlin in April. Since then, orders have been placed for the more than 26,000 1970 Gremlins that are or will be manufactured.

Ann Landers

Nancy Ann Counts Expresses Thanks

Dear Ann Landers: I wrote to you once before — ten years ago. You were seeking your youngest reader. I was eight years old at the time. I said I didn't have any problems but maybe I was your youngest reader, and — as it turned out, I was! You printed my picture in The Daily Oklahoman. I'm sure you don't remember me but my name is Nancy Ann Counts. I am sending the clipping from ten years ago to refresh your memory.

I graduated from Dover High School in May — valedictorian of my class. This summer I am attending Oklahoma State University.

I wanted you to know, Ann Landers, that I have read your column religiously and you have had a strong influence on my life. You have taught me many things—not only through your column, but through your books, "Since You Ask Me," "Teen-Agers And Sex" and "Truth Is Stranger." I have been fortunate to have had such wonderful parents. God has been good to me.

Please keep up the wonderful work. You help so many people and you perform a very valuable service. — Sincerely, Nancy Ann Counts

Dear Nancy: What a beautiful letter! Thank you so very much. It will appear the day before my birthday which is the Fourth of July — as a present to myself.

Dear Ann Landers: I was happily married for 24 years and the mother of six children. My husband passed away suddenly. While going through his personal belongings, I discovered he had had a mistress for at least five years.

I debated for several weeks as to whether I should get in touch with the woman. Finally I decided I had to meet her, so I gave her a call and invited her to my home. The woman looked grief-stricken and much older than I had imagined. She told me she had known my husband before the war—that she loved him and he loved her. He married me instead because we were officially engaged and he felt it was his moral obligation. This woman married shortly after and she and her husband have seven children.

How could I have been so blind? I loved my husband so completely and I was sure he returned that love. Now I can't even pray in peace. Whenever I see his face I see her face, too. I can't eat or sleep. I'm afraid I will become ill and die and no one will be here to take care of my children. Please help me. — Lost Everything

Dear Lost: You will recover from this blow because you must. Your children need you and you cannot fail them. Talking out your grief with a therapist might be useful. Perhaps your husband was one of those rare people who was able to compartmentalize his life totally. If he was such a person his affair with this woman was a thing separate and apart from his family life. It in no way diminished his love for you. I am not attempting to justify his unfaithfulness — only to explain it. Good luck and God bless.

Confidential to In Love With A Dentist: Hang up your track shoes, Dearie. Don't call him unless you have a toothache. A man runs fastest when a woman is chasing him.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. © Publishers-Hall Syndicate

County Board Plans Housing Commission

By MIKE UTT

At a meeting held Thursday night at the Gladstone City Hall, the Delta County Board of Commissioners unanimously approved a resolution of intent to adopt an ordinance on creating a county housing commission after legalities are worked out.

August Blome of UPCAP talked to the board about the specific steps that must be taken in order to create a county housing commission and gave them a model ordinance that would create the commission. The ordinance still had some legalities that had to be ironed out and suggested to the board that they approve a resolution of intent.

Blome said after the ordinance is voted on by the County Board, two copies of the ordinance, signed by the board chairman and certified by the county clerk, must be sent to the governor's office for approval. The ordinance must also be published in local newspapers that provide maximum coverage throughout the county.

A copy of the housing ordinance must also be posted in the county building, each township hall, each city hall and each village hall through the county.

After 15 days, if there is no petition for referendum, the chairman of the county board may appoint five members to the commission. The members of the housing commission would then hold their organizational meeting, appoint a temporary chairman and secretary, take their oath of office, adopt model by-laws, elect officers and set a time and place for regular meetings.

The county clerk, with assistance from the secretary of the housing commission, would then complete all forms in organization transcript for submission to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Delta County Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp and Delta County Clerk William Butler were authorized by the board to draw up a resolution regarding the ambulance service in the county. This resolution would include payment of $700 per month to James Schwalbach, which could be revoked at anytime if services were not satisfactory, and a request to Schwalbach that he purchase an insurance policy that would protect himself and the county in case of law suits.

In other business taken up at Thursday night's meeting, the board adopted resolutions putting the full faith and credit of the county behind the bond issues for the sewer and water systems in Escanaba; authorized Chairman Frank Stupak to check with Daily Press Editor Dave Andrews on the possibility of printing the report of the County Government Study Committee and approved a resolution changing the name of the Office of Civil Defense to the Office of Emergency Measures and the Civil Defense Director to County Disaster Coordinator.

Tribe Finally Beats Orioles After 8 Losses

By The Associated Press

Tony Horton hit for the cycle — single, double, triple, homer — and the Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles for the first time in nine meetings.

Horton's homer and a sacrifice fly by Jack Heidemann in the ninth gave Cleveland a 10-6 lead which stood up despite a three-run homer by Boog Powell in the bottom half.

Elsewhere in the AL, Cleveland outlasted Baltimore 10-9, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 5-2, Oakland trimmed the Chicago White Sox 10-6; California slugged Milwaukee 10-7 and Boston blanked Washington 5-0.

Ray Fosse's three-run homer in the first extended the Cleveland catcher's hitting streak to 23 games . . . longest in the AL this year.

Home runs by Harmon Killebrew, Leo Cardenas and Cesar Tovar powered the Twins past Kansas City to their fourth consecutive victory. Winning pitcher Tom Hall held the Royals hitless until the sixth but needed late relief help from Stan Williams.

Oakland ran its winning string to five games as Reggie Jackson homered to key an early assault on left-hander Barry Moore. Carlos May hit a two-run homer for the White Sox.

The Angels struck for five runs in the seventh, two of them on a single by Alex Johnson, and held off Milwaukee despite two homers by the Brewers' Tommy Harper.

Gary Peters fired a six-hitter for his second successive shutout victory and Carl Yastrzemski provided the punch with a two-run homer as the Red Sox whipped the Senators.

Curtis

Charles V. Stratton has returned to his home from the Helen Newberry Joy Hospital where he was a patient for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pittsley and family have moved into a house owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Barker in the Curtis area.

Orin Burton, who has been a patient at Little Traverse Hospital at Petoskey for several weeks, has returned to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kinnamen and family returned to their home after spending a week here at a cabin on Big Manitowish Lake.

Shirley Hartwick of Mt. Pleasant spent the weekend here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hartwick and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Foote have returned to their home here after a visit in lower Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley of Newfoundland have arrived to spend the summer here.

Seney

Mrs. Fred Cavill and two children of Rapid River have been visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carpenter for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson and son Dennis have returned from Marinette, Wis. where they have been visiting relatives.

J. J. Riordan attended the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Bob DeWeese at their home at Strong's, Mich., Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m.

Gilbert's 65 Leads Canadian Golf Open

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Gibby Gilbert, the longshot guy who came from nowhere to win the Houston Champions earlier this year, credited a telephone lesson from his old tutor with his first-round lead in the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"I missed the cut at Cleveland last week," Gilbert said, "and played bad in practice rounds this week."

"So I called Joe Gerlach in Hollywood, Fla. I told him what I was doing. I was hitting everything high and to the right. I guess he could visualize what I was doing. He knows my game better than I do. He told me I was too wristy, bringing the club back too fast with my hands."

"So I made a correction." Result: A seven-under-par 65 and the first round-lead.

Just off his pace in this star-studded national championship, however, were George Archer and veteran Art Wall, a pair of former Masters champions tied at 66.

John Kennedy, a two-year tour veteran who hasn't come close before, and Toronto assistant pro Gary Pitchford followed with 67s and Bob Stone had a 68.

The big group at 69 was headed by 58-year-old Sam Snead. The others were Larry Hinson, Kermit Zarley, Don Massen-gale, Jim Jamieson, Phil Rodgers, Steve Oppermann, amateur Nick Weslock and Canadian Al Balding.

Defending champion Tommy Aaron shot himself out of it with a 78, 13 strokes back of the leader.

Many of the glamor names in the game—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Billy Casper—skipped the tournament to concentrate on preparations for next week's British Open.

But even with all the top 10 money winners among the missing, the 7,168-yard, par-72 London Hunt and Country Club course took a heavy beating. Thirty-two players broke par and another 29 matched it.

Reino Nestor Ojala, 50, of 602 Ackley St., Rapid River, died early today at his home after suffering a heart attack.

He was born June 27, 1920 in Negaunee and had been employed as a truck driver for the Anderson Lumber Co. of Rapid River. Mr. Ojala was a veteran of World War II, serving for four years with the U.S. Air Force. He was a member of the American Legion, Walter Cole Post of Rapid River.

He is survived by his widow, the former Lenore Rushford; one daughter, Sandra, at home; two stepsons, Darryl Nelson of Stonington and Thomas, serving with the U.S. Army at Ft. Riley, Kan.; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Timothy (Betty) Wood of Norfolk, Va.; two grandchildren; one brother, Eino Ojala of Stonington; two sisters, Mrs. Maurice (Marion) Williams of Milwaukee and Mrs. Harold (Elvi) Schuster of Morrisville, N.Y.

Friends may call after 4 p. m. Sunday at the Skradski Funeral Home and funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday at the funeral home with the Rev. Charles Hazard officiating. Burial will be in the Rapid River Cemetery. Military rites will be conducted by the Walter W. Cole Legion Post.

Arnold Sahlsten, 62, 119831 Mahon, Southfield, Mich. died suddenly at the Denlin-Olson and Maniaci Clinic Thursday noon. Mr. Sahlsten and his family were vacationing in the area.

He was born Jan. 11, 1908 in Sweden and was employed as a die sinker for the General Tool and Engineer Co. Mr. Sahlsten was a member of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Edna O. Christensen; three daughters, Mrs. Donald (Margaret) Canfield and Mrs. Donald (RuthAnn) Kuczewski, both of Livonia and Mrs. John (Dorothy) McLennon of Elmhurst, Ill.; seven grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Richard Sahlsten, three brothers and three sisters, all in Sweden.

Friends may call at the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home from 6 to 9 p. m. today and the body will be sent to the Harper-Mulligan Funeral Home in Southfield where funeral services are tentatively set for Monday afternoon.

Boat In Distress Rescued Thursday

The Sheriff's Department answered a boat in distress call Thursday afternoon and with the assistance of Robert Gasman, 420 S. 7th St., they rescued two people and a boat that had drifted out on the bay.

Carey J. Prev, 947 Stephenson Ave., and Robert A. St. John, 1406 N. 19th St., were water skiing when the gas line on the motor of their boat was damaged. After trying unsuccessfully to restart the motor, they tried to paddle the boat in, but the wind was too strong and they drifted out.

The Sheriff's Department observed the incident through a window in their office and went out to tow the boat back to shore.

Seney

Mrs. Norman Nelson returned Saturday from a short visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny McDonald at Waukegan, Ill.

Word was received of the birth of a son to Sgt. and Mrs. Donald Bonfield at Fort Dix, N. J. on June 26. Mrs. Bonfield is the former Janice Carpenter. The infant has been named Donald Clarence III.

School Aid Bill Has $22 Million Special Section

education expert in the House. Smart opposed to both the concept and potential cost of the program, said passage of the bill was "the funeral of the public school system."

The $969.3 million fund is $122.8 million more than this year's. It represents a compromise between various $1 billion-area sums adopted by the two houses between early December and this spring.

Allowances Set

Basic state aid allowances under the bill would be figured at $530.50 per pupil in districts whose average equalized property value is $15,500 or more. In those below the $15,500 level the gross aid would be $623.50.

However, to collect, the local districts first would have to subtract their local tax levies.

In districts above the $15,500 valuation level, the tax load would have to amount to 14 mills (14 cents per $1,000); in districts of less property value, the new deduction is 20 mills.

Thus, actual state aid would range from $110.50 in high, $30,000 valuation districts, to $563.50 in low, $3,000 districts.

Special Fund

High valuation areas would lose as much as $27.50 per pupil next year, while the low valuation districts would gain as much as $74 for each student. To avoid penalizing districts with raising property values, a special $3.4 million fund was authorized to keep their state aid at present levels.

The bill also includes numerous provisions of the so-called Spencer-Ryan plan advanced by House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, and Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Utica. Those far-reaching changes are intended to take effect in 1971-72, the school year that still is two years away.

Inclusion of those features, together with parochialism, also drew opposition from lawmakers who contended subsequent legislatures could not and should not be bound by previous acts.

The Spencer-Ryan provisions of the bill include:

—Guaranteeing every school district in the state at least a $5 increase over its 1970 - 71 state aid level.

—Establishment of a $40 million fund for state support of local classroom construction projects.

—State assumption of 75 percent of all local school busing costs.

Opponents of the increases and new programs in the bill have charged substantial income tax increases will be required. Most legislators acknowledge that eventually privately now.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schultz

A. Schultzes Observe Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. August Schultz of Perronville observed their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, June 28 beginning with attendance at the 8:30 a.m. worship service at Salem Lutheran Church in Bark River, with all members of their family.

The church was decorated with vases of pink, white and red peonies, their wedding flowers 50 years ago.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the family home from 1 to 8 p.m. and the Rev. Charles Beckingham held a special prayer service at the home at 2 p.m.

The table was centered with a triple tiered wedding cake decorated in white and gold, made by a daughter, Mrs. Harry Vaness of Menominee. Mrs. Rose Gaber of Chicago, another daughter, presided at the silver service.

Mrs. Schultz received her guests attired in a gold lame dress with sequin trim and white accessories. Her corsage was of gold tinted carnations.

Sunday also was marked the 23rd anniversary of Mrs. Schultz's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rugg of Elma, Wash., and the 23rd anniversary of the Schultz's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaber. They were presented gold tinted corsages and boutonnieres.

The former Edna Rugg was born in Spalding, later moved to Gladstone and was married to August Schultz in the Presbyterian Rectory in Escanaba on June 26, 1920. They were attended by Mary Schultz, the bridegroom's sister and Clarence Russell, both deceased. Schultz, a World War I veteran, was born in Tennessee, S.D.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz lived in Foster City; Marinette, where they owned and operated the Marine House on Water Street; and later in Escanaba, where he had the Schultz Fisheries. For some years he operated the M-69 Poultry Farm in Schaffer and for the past 10 years they have lived in semi-retirement in Perronville where he operates the Schultz Trout Pond.

The couple have seven children: William of Channing, who was unable to attend the festivities; Mrs. Thorsten (Gertude) Gedvick, Foster City; Mrs. Harry (Betty) Caness, Menominee; Mrs. Frank (Valerie) Gaber, Perronville; Mrs. Stanley (Rose) Gaber, Chicago; Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Gorecki, Wisconsin; Mrs. Raymond (Shirley) Luchay, Perronville; 34 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren. The reception was arranged by the six daughters assisted by the Lutheran Church Women of Salem Lutheran Church, Bark River.

Present for the anniversary activities were Mrs. Schultz's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rugg of Elma, Wash., Mr. Schultz's brother, Paul of Milwaukee and his sister, Mrs. Rose Louis, Peoria Heights, Ill., and other relatives from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Menominee, Marinette, Iron Mountain and the surrounding area.

Births

Bjorkquist — Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Bjorkquist of 1905 1st Ave. N. are the parents of a daughter, Cheryl Lynn, born at 11:09 a.m. on July 2. The infant weighed 8 pounds and 7 ounces at birth. The mother is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Orzel of Danforth and Mr. Bjorkquist is the son of Mrs. Ann Marie Bjorkquist, 1511 3rd Ave. S. The infant is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Orzel.

Kathryne Jane Potvin Marries Albert L. Vail

St. Francis de Sales Church was the setting for the June 13 marriage service uniting Kathryne Jane Potvin and Albert L. Vail. Msgr. F. M. Scheringer officiated at the two o'clock double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John Potvin, 543 Park Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel L. Vail, 520 Washington Ave., are parents of the couple.

The former Miss Potvin was escorted to the altar by her father. Her floor-length white tulle gown was trimmed with Venice lace, featured a fitted bodice, long sleeves and attached train. A Juliette cap with streamers held the fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations which circled a white orchid and with ivy intertwined.

Mrs. Dan Malloy was matron of honor with Marie Lesica and Mrs. Richard Adler as bridesmaids. They wore nylon dotted Swiss gown with matching headpieces of illusion veiling held in place by bows. The matron of honor was dressed in orchid with the bridesmaids in green. Junior bridesmaid Carolyn Potvin, the bride's sister, wore a similar gown in green. The attendants carried cascade bouquets of contrasting tinted carnations. Kathy Repp, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl and Thomas Potvin, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom was attended by John Males, best man, with Dan Malloy, David Anderson and James Lesica as groomsmen.

The couple accepted congratulations at a reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall with 350 relatives and friends attending. Sandra Hoholik and Lori Steele assisted with gifts and the guest book.

The new Mrs. Vail is a Manistique High School graduate and of the Northern Michigan University School of Practical Nursing. Her husband also graduated from Manistique High School and from Western Michigan University where he was awarded a bachelor of science degree in Business Administration. He is currently serving with the Marines in Albany, Ga., where the couple will make their home at 117 A Marine Road.

Free On Bond, Man, 45, Hurt As Car Rolls

A 45-year-old Curtis man—Robert Streefkerk—who is free on $100 bond pending a July 6 District Court trial on a drunk driving charge was involved in two separate automobile accidents Wednesday, State Police report.

Streefkerk was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries after his car went through a stop sign at the M-77 and U. S. 2 intersection, Blaney Junction, rolled over and hit a tree. The mishap occurred about 10:45 Wednesday night, officers said. Streefkerk was taken to the hospital by Public Safety ambulance.

The incident is under investigation, officers said, and no citations have been issued.

Earlier, Streefkerk was ticketed for following too closely after his car struck an automobile driven by Sharon Maczarski, 34, Brighton, just a short distance from the M-77-U. S. 2 intersection. Streefkerk struck the westbound Maczarski vehicle in the rear when Mrs. Maczarski decreased her traveling speed. A three-year old passenger in the Maczarski car, Mary Felty of Brighton, required emergency treatment at the hospital. This accident was reported at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Streefkerk posted $100 bond after pleading not guilty in District Court on June 29 to a drunk driving charge. He was arrested June 28 following an accident on U. S. 2 in Mueller Township.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Tuesday and Wednesday were Rae Highlund, Otto Steen, William Guinan, Carl Anderson, Mary Felty, Juanita Weyant and Mary Margaret McBurney. Discharged were Archie McDonald, Harold Deshetler, Jean Austin, Harold Beaton, Hilda Ahlstrom, Amanda Sugden, Betty Rochefort and baby, and Kathleen Nelson.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

Opening lead — queen of spades.

This deal occurred during the British Trials. The hand was played at six tables and produced a remarkably wide variety of bidding sequences, even though the field included Britain's very finest players.

At the first table, the bidding went as shown and declarer easily made eleven tricks.

At the second table, the bidding went:

West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

South's astonishing pass was decidedly unsuccessful. West making seven tricks against the king of hearts lead.

At table three, North-South got highly ambitious. This was the bidding:

West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

South was reluctant to jump to four clubs or diamonds with a four-card suit, so he responded to North's double with a cuebid. Unhappy with hearts, South tried another cuebid requesting partner to choose a different suit. North did, but he overshot the mark.

The bidding at table four went:

West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

East led a diamond and North made nine tricks.

At table five, the bidding went:

West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

South went down one against the queen of spades lead.

At table six, the bidding went:

West North East South
 1 Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 5 Pass

North made eleven tricks. A summary shows that only two North-South pairs arrived at the best contract of five diamonds, while the others wandered far afield. Even among experts, apparently, there is no uniformity in bidding.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Huge gears turn ponderously—meshing with others which turn still others, and power is born, energy released.

Today more and more gears and gadgets make living more and more luxurious. There are machines to do almost everything. Appliances entertain us, teach us, train us.

One thing remains individual. There's no "dial-a-matic" gadget for God, no pushbutton gimmick. Man's search for meaning in his life is still his own responsibility.

When man only dreamed of flying and the fastest way to travel was by horseback, God's Church was the source of all goodness and joy. It's no different today. In a world where man races for the stars, the Church remains the well-spring of truth.

Attend your church. Find faith and the good life.
